MINING SHARES IN GREAT DE-MAND AT PRESENT.

New York, Oct. 5 .- A sluggish upward novement of prices gave way in the last of trading today to a buoyant and mimated uprush which made almost as large a volume of business as the whole of that for the rest of the day. The revival of the statement—verified shortly after the close of trading—that the "ore" deal was ready to be announced once more caused the awakening of the market. Up to that time dealings had been so dull as to offfer small field for comment outside the general puzzled conjectures as to the cause for the sudden relapse from speculative animation early in the week. The forecasts of the bank statement were for an increase of $8,000,000 to $9,000,000 in cash, according to the computation of the usually accepted authorities. This gain is mostly due to the deposit of government funds with the banks under the offer of the treasury department, which was later modified to increase the New York allotment by reason of the rejection of the offer by interior banks. of that for the rest of the day. The re-

The regular export movement with the interior indicates a persistence of demand on New York, the movement on balance against New York amounting to about $2,000,000. Money on call was much easier. The halt in the operations by large capitalists was attributed in some quarters to desire to await the clearing of differences over the ore deal. The stocks immediately connected with the project were notably strong in the day's narrow market. Rumors were afloat at one time that President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania had died. Contradiction of this report did not entirely relieve the market from the repressive effect of his ill health.

some allowance must be made for the diversion of speculative activity to quarters outside the stock exchange in accounting for apathetic conditions there. Wall street gives attention to the cotton market in periods of excitement thece, such as ruled today. The apprehension over the cotton carrying railroads. The proceedings in the outside market also offer a strong contrast to the somnolence on the floor of the stock exchange. Crowds of curb brokers are kept busy handling orders for inining shares of all descriptions.

Coppers and gold mines are the favorites, but the most eager dealers in the shares are alleged to be uninformed as to the product of their property. Within a few days past the speculation in mines in the outside market has taken on the proportions of a craze. Union Pacific's strength was connected with reports of the very favorable character of the forthcoming annual report. The renewed weakness of Russian securities abroad and disquieting news of the condition of Russian finances were thought to have and disquieting news of the condition of Russian finances were thought to have some bearing on the restraint apparent in the stock market. The market closed buoyant under the influence of the late outbursts of animation. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,660,000. United States new 4s declined ½ per
